

God Solves Aloneness

Genesis 2:18-25

It's strange to hear in a perfect world, that something's wrong (Gen. 2:18)

1. What's not good?

2. What's God's solution?

3. What's now possible?

Discussion Questions:

1. How does being on your own, by yourself, limit how you can glorify and enjoy God?
2. How does a person on their own, limit what we can see and know of God (i.e. how does that situation limit what it means to image him)?
3. What's it been like for you to think about and value both men and women in a world that pits them against each other or that tries to flatten out our unique distinctions?
4. It's easy to idolize or devalue marriage in a broken world. Are there ways in which you need to alter your approach or attitude toward marriage?
5. How does God making Eve for Adam, help you understand what he longs for with you? How's that help you grasp what he wants for his church?
 - a. How does making Eve help you see where you fit into this world?
 - b. How does it empower you to take on what he's given you to do here?
